

Shahab Tolouie launches new website crafted to address fans' wishes.

PRAGUE, CZ, May 27, 2012 - Shahab Tolouie, pioneer of Persian & Flamenco fusion music, has launched a newly redesigned interactive website that is simpler and more user-friendly. Still under domain name www.shahab-tolouie.com, the new site is now, at its inception the most minimal possible, to be adapted and develop interactively in time according to fans' and friends' desires.

Perhaps the most interesting part of the new site is the section "Shahab" with updated biographical information, profiles of the band members, and finely observed insights into the conceptual cutting edge of his musical work as it is evolving.

Now, instead of having to go to several different social media sites to follow the musician, the visitor to this site will be positioned at the nexus of gathered feeds from various pages in this one place.

For bloggers and site owners, it's possible to use the music free of charge by embedding the media player code into their websites. For those still willing to support musicians by buying the physical CD's, collectors who prize the tangible artefact, there is a store.

Fans can share news, photos and videos through various sites, and can become part of Shahab Tolouie's site by uploading their photos, info and comments here, and subscribing to the mailing list or RSS feed.
